COMPATIBILITY WITH CONSUMER ELECTRONICS EQUIPMENT

ELECTRONICS EQUIPMENT: Golden West Cablevision video service is encrypted and requires a Golden West provided Digital Receiver, to include, but not limited to DTA-Digital Transport Adaptor, DVR – Digital Video Recorder, IPTV – Internet Protocol Television, that are compatible with our system for each television you wish to use with our service, however note that not all devices are available in all systems based on current technologies.

Even if you have a TV or other video equipment that was advertised as being "cable-ready" or "cable-compatible" when you purchased it, the equipment will not perform as you expected when connected directly to Golden West Cablevision cable system. According to current federal regulations, TVs and other video equipment sold in the U.S. cannot be called "cable ready" or "cable-compatible" unless they comply with technical requirements adopted by the FCC, including the ability to tune cable channels properly. Certain new digital televisions, recording devices, and other video equipment, known as Unidirectional Digital Cable Products ("UDCPs"), that are connected to our digital cable systems will not operate on our cable systems properly, unless the system technology will accept a separate security device and comply with certain Federal Communications Commission(FCC) technical requirements. DTAs cannot access two-way cable services such as Pay-Per-View events and Video-On-Demand (VOD).

The majority of programming offered by Golden West Cablevision is high-definition (HD). Golden West offers compatible Digital Receivers to receive Golden West Cablevision programming. The Digital Receivers leased from Golden West Cablevision may be incompatible with special functions on your television set or other video device. Digital receivers may interfere with features that allow the subscriber to view a program on one channel while simultaneously recording a program on another channel; record two or more consecutive programs that appear on different channels; and, use advanced picture generation and display features such as picture-in-picture, channel review, and other functions.

REMOTE CONTROLS: All remote control units are provided by Golden West and are compatible with Golden West provided equipment. All Digital Receivers provided by Golden West are either included in the monthly pricing or provided at an additional monthly fee, however, the remote control units are provided at no extra charge.

The remote control that may have come with your TV or other video equipment also may be capable of controlling the digital receiver. If you choose, you may buy a "universal" remote control unit from a retail store that is capable of working with our receiver. Although features and functions of remote controls vary significantly, many universal remote control models from Sony, RCA, Universal Electronics, and other retail providers may be programmed to operate customer equipment.

All Golden West provided remote controls must be returned with the digital receivers within five (5) calendar days after disconnection of service. If the remote control and/or digital receivers are not returned or is damaged, replacement costs will be charged to your account.
